

'MOVIES WORTH TALKING ABOUT'
sponsored by
The Religion & Race Committee

featuring...

SUNDAY, JUNE 24, 2012

2PM – 5PM

Community Hall

2:00PM – View the movie

(Enjoy popcorn and a 'candy' bar during the movie)

4:15 – 5:00pm – Round table discussion

Racial tensions are a continued presence in our community. Honest dialogue can help us work through this difficult topic and learn to understand and accept one another as children of God.

Certain films can help us begin such dialogue.

Please join the Religion & Race Committee for the first in a series of 'Movies Worth Talking About'. Come for the movie at 2:00pm and small group discussion beginning at 4:15pm. We invite adults and youth to participate in this intergenerational event! *Please note: The Help is rated PG-13 for thematic material on racial, social, and familial issues*

Contact Paula Gradney for more information on the film's content or questions about the event. We'll see you there!